This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. # REPORT

ALBANY, N. Y., January 10, 1917.

To the Governor:

In accordance with the provisions of section six of the Civil Service Law, we submit report for the year 1916, being the Thirty-fourth Report of the Department.

The personnel of the Commission has remained the same throughout the year, and there have been no important changes in the number or grade of the Commission's employees. The Commission has held sixty-seven regular meetings, an average of more than one a week, and by the adoption of a more systematic method of transacting business we have been able to complete the work of the year within the time required. Never before, in recent years at least, has the present record been equalled. This condition is largely the result of the faithful, efficient and earnest efforts of many of the employees, some of whom have given their services outside of recognized office hours, on Saturday afternoons, and on holidays. The ever increasing demands for technical and high grade examinations, the growth of the service now subject to the law, and the extension of the rules to other civil divisions, are believed to justify additions to the present staff during the next fiscal year.

The enforcement of the principle of competitive examination as embodied in the Constitution, and the policy relative thereto, as outlined in our report for the year 1915, has been maintained. The work of putting the civil service procedure on a consistent merit basis fell to us to perform. With your co-operation, and that of appointing officers, progress also has been made in the general betterment of the service, but there is still much to be accomplished. With each ensuing year the benefits to the State resulting from filling vacancies through tests for merit and fitness will be recognized, and as the system broadens in its operation and becomes fully understood, the principle of open competition for public employment should advance steadily in public favor.

Digitized by Google

While the noncompetitive, or pass examination, is well adapted for use in connection with certain positions, usually those demanding some degree of manual labor, the open competitive examination wherever practicable, is the scheme embodied in the Constitution and this principal of securing the best, the Commission feels ought to be substantially always applied in the large general field of state employment.

Examinations

During the year 23,686 persons filed applications for all classes of examination. Of this number 19,305 were examined, 2,462 were rejected as not meeting the requirements, and 1,919 failed to appear for examination. There were 237 open competitive examinations held in which 13,488 persons were competitors, of whom 7,211 passed and 6,277 failed. The commission also held 137 competitive promotion examinations, in which there were 1,385 competitors. This is the largest number of candidates of this character in any year of the department's history. In 1915 there were 833 candidates, 1914, 778; 1913, 710.

The total number of provisional appointments for the year was 236 as compared with 472 in 1915, 1108 in 1914, and 768 in 1913. We have continued the policy set forth in our last annual report of reducing the number of provisional appointments as much as possible, and the number allowed during 1916 was smaller than in any of the five years preceding, notwithstanding the great growth in that period in the number of classified employees. At the close of the year there were only seven provisional appointees serving pending preparation of eligible lists, viz: Deputy medical examiner, bureau of deportation, State Hospital Commission; Examiner in history, Department of Education; Transfer tax assistant, Surrogate's office, Bronx county; three junior assistants, Public Service Commission, First District; Matron, Erie County Jail.

The use of oral examinations has been continued in certain instances to determine ratings for experience, efficiency, and personal qualifications, and the Commission is satisfied that such tests are of great value when properly applied.

The principles expressed upon this subject in the Commission's report for the year 1915 are particularly reiterated.

Digitized by Google

On January 1, 1917, there remained uncompleted only one open competitive examination, and two promotion competitive examinations. These were all held late in the year, but the ratings will be finished and the lists established before February 1, 1917.

The appeals from ratings received by the Commission during the year number only 100, of which 89 were denied and 11 approved in some form. This is a considerable reduction as compared with the 367 appeals reviewed by the present and previous Commission during the year 1915.

Of the 11 appeals upon which ratings were changed, 9 were allowed on merit and 2 to correct errors.

The allowance of appeals from ratings has frequently been abused in the past, and the reduction in the number taken last year, as compared with previous years, indicates not only that these abuses have been stopped, but that there is greater satisfaction with the ratings given by the examiners.

Additional data regarding examinations will be found in the report of the Chief Examiner.

Amendments to the Classification

No radical changes in classification have been made during the year. The Commission has applied the principle of competition to all new places established whenever it found that competitive examination was practicable; and on the other hand it has included in the exempt or noncompetitive class only such offices or positions as were required to be exempt under the provisions of section 13 of the law, or for which competitive examination was not found practicable.

A comparison of the roster of officers and employees as reported to the Commission as it existed January 1, 1916, with the roster as reported January 1, 1917, not including labor positions, shows a decrease of 447.

The following table gives the classification in each class for these years:

| | Jan. 1, 1916 | Jan. 1, 1917 | Increase | Decrease |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Unclassified Service | 1,282 | 1,295 | 13 | .... |
| Classified Service: | | | | |
| Exempt | 1,609 | 1,488 | .... | 121 |
| Competitive | 11,388 | 11,102 | .... | 286 |
| Non-competitive | 6,905 | 6,552 | .... | 53 |
| Totals | 20,884 | 20,437 | 13 | 460 |
| Net decrease | | | | 447 |

Digitized by Google

It would be difficult by any process to explain in detail how these changes occurred. The increase in the unclassified service of 13 names on the roster is due no doubt to a more complete and accurate list. Appointing officers do not always advise the department of changes in this service, and we are obliged to make the record largely from information obtained from the Executive Department, office of the Secretary of State, and the Legislative Manual. The decrease in the exempt class of 121 is accounted for by striking out of certain obsolete places and of 99 places under the Palisades Interstate Park Commission, which are filled by joint action of the Commissions of the States of New York and New Jersey. While certain additional places were classified as exempt during the year 1916, those taken from the exempt class greatly exceeded the number added. The reduction in the number of employees in the competitive and non-competitive classes is due no doubt to the seasonal fluctuation of the service, lack of work or of available funds, or elimination of unnecessary positions.

It should always be borne in mind that the classification table and Civil List are made from reports presented by appointing officers, and that there is no method by which to substantiate the record except by checking pay-rolls. Accurate reports from departments in accordance with Rule XX will enable the Commission to publish a Civil List correct in every detail. New positions added to the exempt class are as follows:

Chaplain (5), State institutions.

Chief of accounts, Public Service Commission, First District.

Chief of rapid transit, Public Service Commission, First District.

Clerk and stenographer, Surrogate, Suffolk county.

Confidential opinion stenographer, Appellate Term, Supreme Court, Second Department.

Deputy assistant district attorney, Queens county.

Deputy attorney-general (4), Attorney-General.

Deputy, Bureau of Elections (2), county clerk, Oneida.

Deputy counsel (2), Bronx Parkway Commission.

Deputy, county clerk, Rensselaer.

Second deputy, county clerk, Chautauqua.

Digitized by Google

Second deputy, county clerk, Suffolk.
Secretary, Board of Child Welfare, Suffolk county.
Secretary, Budget Bureau, Executive Department.
Secretary, Commission on the Government of Nassau county.
Secretary, county clerk, Rensselaer county.
Secretary, county clerk, Suffolk county.
Secretary, Mosquito Extermination Commission, Nassau county.
Secretary, State Board of Dental Examiners.
Secretary, treasurer, Rensselaer county.
Secretary, superintendent of the poor, Westchester county.
Special detective, Department of Agriculture.
Special deputy (2), Excise Department.
Superintendent, Saratoga Springs Reservation, Conservation Commission.

Of these six were mandatory exemptions under section 13 of the Civil Service Law.

In December the Commission took up the matter of revising the entire classification on a merit basis by transferring to the competitive class from the exempt, the non-competitive and the labor class a number of positions. A review of the existing classification disclosed that there were 458 places for which competitive examination, promotion or open competitive, seems to be practicable in case vacancies should occur or present obsolete offices be re-established. These places are subdivided as follows:

|---|---|
| State departments | 231 |
| State courts | 20 |
| State institutions | 24 |
| County departments | 183 |
| Total | 458 |

Each appointing officer who would be affected by any change made has been requested to state his views as to reclassification of positions in his department. After consideration of the replies received and information obtained in hearings which may be given, the Commission will make its recommendations to you.

More Office Room and Increased Appropriation Necessary

The Commission has repeatedly petitioned the Trustees of Public Buildings for additional office room, but without result except the assignment of one small room on the sixth floor of the Capitol. While it appreciates that the Trustees have used their best judgment in allotting floor space to the several departments, as the need greatly exceeds the supply, the Commission is still seriously inconvenienced in its work because of lack of suitable quarters. The Commissioners and their thirty-four employees now occupy five rooms, with a total floor space of about 3,600 square feet. The Commissioners have no private offices or hearing room and are obliged to use the room occupied by the Secretary and his stenographer, for these purposes. Deduct from this space the square feet required for furniture, typewriting machines, book and filing cases, etc., and the over-crowded condition of the Department is apparent. We hope that the investigation of these conditions, which the State Industrial Commission is conducting pursuant to authority of the Legislature, will result in some relief.

In compliance with statutory provisions we have transmitted to you, to the Joint Budget Committee of the Legislature, and to the Comptroller, requests for appropriations to be made for the Department for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1917. We have asked for a total appropriation of $101,120, divided as follows:

|---|---|
| Personal service, administration division | $37,880 |
| Personal service, examinations division | 29,740 |
| Salaries, temporary | 12,000 |
| Printing | 7,500 |
| Equipment | 600 |
| Office supplies | 1,000 |
| Traveling expenses | 7,000 |
| Communication | 5,400 |
| Total | $101,120 |

The needs of the Commission and the reasons for the increase were fully stated in the requests above mentioned, and we need only say here that we are convinced that the larger appropriations requested are absolutely necessary if the constantly increasing work of the Commission is to be done as it ought to be done. It is especially desirable that the Commission should be enabled to employ one or more character investigators and regular medical examiners.

Digitized by Google

Suspension of the Rule Requiring Competition

Under the provisions of section 15, subdivision 2, of the Civil Service Law, the Commission, upon satisfactory evidence that for specified reasons competition in cases where peculiar and exceptional qualifications are required is impracticable and that the position can be best filled by the selection of some designated person of high and recognized attainments in such qualities, may suspend the provisions of the rule requiring competition. We believe that this rule has been too liberally construed, not to say abused, in the past. Thirty-five such cases were allowed in 1911, 46 in 1912, 34 in 1913, and 48 in 1914. In the year 1915 the present Commission granted only three such suspensions. During 1916 the Commission received a number of requests to suspend the rule, but all were denied except five. These cases, with the reasons therefor, are as follows:

Dr. James Sullivan, State Historian and Director of the Division of Archives and History, University of the State of New York, $5,000 a year.

The qualifications of Dr. Sullivan for this position are contained in a letter of John H. Finley, Commissioner of Education, under date of January 26, 1916, reading in part as follows:

> "Doctor Sullivan was graduated from Harvard University with the degree of bachelor of arts in 1894, master of arts in 1895, and doctor of philosophy in 1898. During 1894–1895 he was assistant instructor in history and government at Harvard. In 1896 he was a student on a Harvard University traveling fellowship at the École des Chartes and at the University of Paris. In 1897 he pursued his studies further at the University of Berlin on the same fellowship, as also at Vienna, Munich and Rome. Then again from 1897 to 1899 he was an instructor at Harvard in history and government. He was then attracted into secondary school work in New York City and from 1899 to 1902 he taught history and civics in the DeWitt Clinton High School. In 1902 he became principal of the Annex of the High School of Commerce, which position he held until 1903, when he became first assistant in history and civics in the same school. He held this position until 1907, lecturing during the years 1905 and 1906 at Teachers College, Columbia University, on the teaching of history and civics. In 1907 he was made principal of the Boys' High School, Brooklyn, which position he now occupies.

"Meanwhile he continued his historical studies, spending several of his summers in the Bodleian Library, Oxford, in the British Museum, London, and in the Bibliothèque Nationale, Paris.

* * * * * * * * * * *

"His particular fitness has come from his studies noted above, in the schools of archives and historical libraries abroad, but his administrative experience and his familiarity with the schools of the State suggest a wider usefulness than could be had by one of narrower training."

Joseph Ripley, Secretary and Resident Member of the Board of Consulting Engineers appointed by the State Engineer, $7,200 a year.

Pursuant to Chapter 147, Laws of 1903, as amended by Chapter 736 of the Laws of 1911, the State Engineer and Surveyor is authorized to appoint a board of consulting engineers. Mr. Ripley was appointed as secretary and resident member of the Board, and the provision of the rule requiring examination was suspended in his case for the reason that he had been employed by the United States Government on canal construction, had been a member of the Panama Engineering Commission, and had served as a member of the Board of Consulting Engineers under the State Engineer during the years 1911 to 1914, inclusive.

Moses T. Clegg, Assistant Director in the Bacteriological Laboratory, Quarantine Station, Department of Health Officer, Port of New York, $2,500 a year, with maintenance.

At the time of the selection of Dr. Clegg for the position named he was employed as Director of the important government laboratory at San Francisco, California, and had recognized attainments in medical science, especially in bacteriology which were known the world over; he had for over five years been engaged in the Philippines at the bureau of science at Manila and in the diagnosis of tropical diseases, with rich experience in cholera, plague and leprosy; for several years he had been employed by the Public Health service in special leprosy and plague work in Honolulu, Hawaii. As it is extremely difficult to find bacteriologists who have had wide experience both in cholera and plague, to invasion from which diseases the State is constantly liable, the Commission held that competitive examination in this case was not practicable, and that the rule requiring examination could properly be suspended.

Thomas A Storey, Inspector of Physical Training, Military Training Commission, $5,000 a year.

Chapter 566, Laws of 1916, provides for a Military Training Commission, said Commission to appoint an inspector of physical training. Thomas A. Storey, Ph.D.,M.D., a trained and successful teacher and director in the field of physical training, a graduate of Stanford University, a former teacher at Harvard University, and since 1906 the head of the Department of Physical Training and Hygiene of the College of the City of New York, was selected, and under date of July 26, 1916, the Commission, under the authority given by section 15, subdivision 2, of the civil service law suspended examination in his case.

Alfred Craven, Consulting Engineer, Public Service Commission for the First District, $12,000 a year.

From the application presented in this instance it appears that Mr. Craven has had unusual experience, having been engaged in the practice of his profession as civil engineer for the past forty-six years, following graduation from the United States Naval Academy; that he has held a responsible executive position in the engineering department of the Public Service Commission for the First District, and its predecessor, the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners, since May 1, 1900, prior to which time he was for six years division engineer for the Aqueduct Commission of the City of New York, being deputy chief engineer of the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners from May 1, 1900 to May 25, 1900, when he became deputy engineer of subway construction, continuing in said position until October 1, 1910, when he was appointed engineer of subway construction, being designated as acting chief engineer, which position he held until October 1, 1911, when he was appointed chief engineer. It further appeared that Mr. Craven was a director of the American Society of Civil Engineers from 1903 to 1905, and is at the present time vice-president of that society; that he was also one of the founders of the Society of Municipal Engineers of the City of New York; that he is also the civil engineering member of the Naval Defense Board, having been selected by the American Society of Civil Engineers as its representative, and having been appointed by the Secretary of the Navy upon the recommendation of that Society. The Commission suspended the rule requiring competition in the case of Mr. Craven under date of November 2, 1916.

In all of these cases evidence was presented to the Commission which convinced it that the number of possible candidates for the positions in question, who were qualified to fill them, was so small that competitive examinations were impracticable.

Lack of Candidates from Certain Parts of the State

The records of our examinations division show that during the year about 11,465 candidates have been examined in open competitive examinations in New York City and Albany, and 2023, which is 15 per cent of the total number, took the examinations in other parts of the State. A review of the lists last year showed that thirteen up-state counties had no names on the eligible lists.

Digitized by Google

One cause, it is believed, is the lack of publicity given to examinations which are held in thirty-two up-state centers. A special appropriation would be required to obtain publicity by newspaper advertising, and we are obliged to depend upon the generosity of the press to give notice of examinations. Recently the Commission has adopted the plan of sending to postmasters a card, printed in bold type, announcing examinations, with request that the same be posted in a conspicuous place. It is hoped by this method and others to be devised, to attract more candidates from up-state counties, and to make the personnel of the civil service more representative of all districts in the State.

Civil Service Rules for Cities

A considerable part of the Commission's work has been the consideration of revised rules for cities, and amendments to existing rules. In all these matters it has sought to establish a consistent competitive system and to aid in every way local commissions in the arrangement and conduct of examinations.

The rules for the following cities have been completely revised during the year:

Ithaca, Niagara Falls, Watertown, Watervliet and White Plains.

The rules for the following cities have been amended:

Binghamton, Buffalo, Corning, Elmira, Gloversville, Jamestown, Johnstown, Lackawanna, Lockport, New York, Newburgh, New Rochelle, Olean, Plattsburgh, Rochester, Rome, Saratoga Springs, Schenectady, Troy, Utica, Watertown, White Plains and Yonkers.

Proposed amendments to the rules or classification submitted by the commissions of the following cities have been returned without approval:

Binghamton, Kingston, Plattsburgh, Schenectady, Syracuse, Utica, White Plains, and Yonkers.

The Commission has under consideration an entire revision of the rules for the city of Buffalo as recently submitted by the Municipal Commission.

Inspection of Records of Municipal Civil Service Commissions

Pursuant to civil service regulation XII, and in keeping with the practice of the Department, members of the Commission and the secretary visited forty-five cities during the year, conferred with local commissioners, and inquired into the methods of administration of the Civil Service Law and rules in each instance. The cities are as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Albany, | Hudson, | Oswego, |
| Amsterdam, | Ithaca, | Plattsburgh, |
| Beacon, | Jamestown, | Port Jervis, |
| Binghamton, | Johnstown, | Poughkeepsie, |

With few exceptions the records and procedure were found satisfactory, and the work of the commissions greatly improved. Certain suggestions were made for changes in rules, classification, or practice which it is believed if adopted will aid the commissions and city officials in faithfully discharging their duties in compliance with the law. We regard these conferences with local commissions as most important, and believe that if these local commissions are to be continued it would be for the public interest to give the Commission an additional assistant secretary who should devote practically all of his time to this work and to assisting local commissions to properly administer the Civil Service Law. We renew, however, the recommendation contained in our last annual report that the municipal commissions in the smaller cities of the State, certainly in all of the third-class cities, be abolished, and the work placed in the hands of the State Civil Service Commission. We believe this would result in increased efficiency and large economies.

The City of Sherrill

Pursuant to chapter 172, Laws of 1916, the city of Sherrill was incorporated and came into existence July 11, 1916. The act provided for the election of a Commission of five persons, and the appointment of a chief administrative officer to be known as manager. The statute further provided with reference to a Civil Service Commission as follows:

> "The Commission may at any time, if in their judgment it is necessary or if so ordered by the state civil service commission, appoint a city civil service commission who shall hold office and perform the duties provided for by the general civil service law."

The secretary of the State Commission visited the city of Sherrill August 8, 1916, for a conference with the officials. He found that there was only one place in the entire city service which could be placed in the competitive class and reported that it would be inadvisable to order the appointment of a municipal civil service commission. At meeting held September 7, 1916, the following was adopted:

> WHEREAS, It appears from report of Secretary of this Commission, dated August 28, 1916, that because of the limited service in the city of Sherrill application of the Civil Service Law and Rules would not be practicable, and
> WHEREAS, In view of provision of the charter, chapter 172, Laws of 1916, the application of the Civil Service Law and Rules and the appointment of a municipal commission is discretionary and not mandatory, therefore be it
> Resolved, That the appointment of a Civil Service Commission and establishment of Civil Service Rules for the city of Sherrill be and hereby is deferred until otherwise ordered by the State Civil Service Commission.

Extension of the Service

The Constitution, article V, section 9, requires competitive examinations for filling positions in counties and villages, whenever practicable. Section 10 of the Civil Service Law provides that "The Commission shall from time to time make rules for the classification of the offices, places and employments in the classified service of the State, and from time to time rules for the classification of the offices, places and employments in such civil divisions thereof, except cities, as after due inquiry by the Commission shall be found practicable, and for appointments and promotions therein and examinations therefor, not inconsistent with the Constitution and the provisions of this chapter, and shall amend the same from time to time."

Early in the year the Commission took under consideration the matter of classifying the service of counties not among the eighteen now subject to the rules, the population of which was in excess of 75,000 in accordance with the census of 1915. There are six counties of this class, viz; Dutchess, Jefferson, Oswego, St. Lawrence, Schenectady and Steuben. A careful survey was made of the services of these counties, and the views of the appointing officers were requested concerning the practicability of classification. It was found that the number of employees whose positions could properly be included in the competitive class was so small that it was decided not to extend the provisions of the rules to the places, offices and employments in the counties of Dutchess, St. Lawrence and Steuben. Action is contemplated which will result in recommending for executive approval the classification of the services of the counties of Jefferson, Oswego and Schenectady. A tentative classification of these counties shows that 134 positions and offices could be brought into the classified service, subdivided as follows: exempt 34; non-competitive 18; competitive 82.

The Commission also caused a survey to be made of the services of villages, other than Ossining, Peekskill and Port Chester, which are now subject to the rules, having a population in excess of 7,000. The villages in this group comprise Malone, Mamaroneck, Ilion, Herkimer and Seneca Falls. The Commission concluded not to make classification for the present of the places and offices in the villages of Herkimer, Malone, Mamaroneck (police department now subject to civil service rules) and Seneca Falls, as the number of positions which could be made competitive was very limited. It was decided, however, to classify the offices, places and employments in the village of Ilion, and resolutions are now before you subject to your approval. The trustees of Ilion consented to the classification of the police department but were not in entire accord with plan to include the entire service. It was deemed by the Commission that it was inadvisable to classify only a small number of the places,— viz., chief and assistant chief of police, and three patrolmen, but it was felt that if the rules are to be extended at all they should include the entire village service. The classification proposed, and its comparison with the classification of the villages now classified, is shown by the following table:

| | Exempt | Competitive | Non-Competitive |
|---|---|---|---|
| Ossining | 6 | 21 | 1 |
| Peekskill | 4 | 27 | 2 |
| Port Chester | 5 | 25 | 2 |
| Ilion | 5 | 20 | 1 |

Court Proceedings

The Commission has been a party to eleven litigations during the year, all of which related to the application of the Civil Service Law or Rules. Of this number five were decided in favor of the Commission's ruling; in five cases the Commission's ruling was reversed, and in the remaining case the proceeding was settled and discontinued.

The decisions and opinions in these cases will be published as usual in the second volume of our report and need not be summarized here. The only really important case in which the Commission's ruling was reversed was the Grifenhagen case, in which the Commission sought, as mentioned in our last annual report, to secure the reversal, or at least some modification of the decision of the Court of Appeals in the Flaherty case, which held that certain subordinates of sheriffs, who were engaged in the execution of civil process, are outside of the Civil Service. As the Commission believed this to be contrary to the spirit of the Civil Service clause of the Constitution, and detrimental to the best interests of the service, by permitting the continuation of the vicious spoils system in sheriff's offices, it felt that it was its duty to present a test case to the Courts in the hope that the merit system might be extended to sheriff's subordinates as it has been to all other county offices. The Commission's position was sustained at Special Term and at the Appellate Division, but was reversed by the Court of Appeals by a divided Court. We deeply regret this result, as we firmly believe that it prevents great improvement in the administration of sheriff's offices, and we must appeal to the Legislature for a change in the law to accomplish the results which we believe to be necessary.

Efficiency

Since July 1, 1916, the beginning of the present fiscal year, the Commission has had in operation a tentative system of efficiency records. Such records, it believes, are of the greatest value in determining proper promotions and it believes that these records should be kept in all departments and offices.

No entirely satisfactory method of rating efficiency in general office positions has yet been devised, but there should be kept an accurate record of daily hours and promptness, of vacation and sick leave, and at least some approximate record of the quality and quantity of routine work, and of the industry, willingness, and exhibition of initiative of each employee, and no increase of salary or advantageous transfer ought to take place unless justified by this record.

The Commission renews its recommendations of last year that the Civil Service Law should require all departments, offices and bureaus to keep efficiency records of the work of their employees along lines provided by rules to be formulated by the Civil Service Commission. The law also might properly provide that employees failing to secure a minimum record for efficient work should be demoted or dropped from the service.

Political Assessments Prohibited

One of the primary objects contemplated by the passage of the Civil Service Law from the very outset was the abolition of the abuse of political assessments upon public officials and employees.

Digitized by Google

The practice had reached such proportions that the public treasury was considered a source from which political parties might replenish their campaign funds, and many contended that there was an implied contract, on the part of one accepting an appointment, to contribute a percentage of his salary to the use of the party under which he held office. This conception that public offices belong to the party or organization in control, to be used for partisan ends, instead of being trusts for the public welfare, was one of the manifest evils of the "spoils system."

The Civil Service Law contains in section 26 a provision intended to correct this evil, and to protect office holders from being the prey and the instruments of party managers. The Commission, believing it to be its duty to call this provision of the statute to the attention of appointing officers, issued under date of October 5, 1916, a printed circular addressed to the heads of all state, city and county departments, bureaus and institutions, inviting information as to any violation of the law in this respect to the end that the abuse might be stopped, the intent of the law enforced, and the facts of its infraction laid before you, or presented to the grand jury for action.

These circulars were widely distributed and the officials to whom they were sent were requested to have them posted in their offices. The Commission is gratified to be able to report that no violation of the statute has been brought to its attention.

The Work of the Senate Committee on Civil Service

The Commission has followed with much interest the work of the Senate Committee on Civil Service, and is familiar with the legislation proposed last year when a bill was introduced amending the Civil Service Law in relation to salaries and grade standards. The act contemplated only such changes as would be necessary to make effective the standards proposed, the application of the specifications for personal service, changes of title, and the creation of a bureau for the keeping of service records and ratings, and such other work as would be incident to the standardization program. We regard this work as most important, and indeed as essential to the proper development of an efficient Civil Service.

Digitized by Google

We understand the Committee has continued its work by making an inquiry into the administration of the existing law for the purpose of determining to what extent the practice of the Civil Service Commission should be revised in order to enforce the new standards and to bring about a more business-like administration in the various departments of the municipalities and of the State.

The Yonkers Investigation

Early in the year charges were presented to the State Commission against the secretary and chief examiner of the civil service commission of the city of Yonkers, alleging violation of the Civil Service Law and Rules. After receipt of answer by the Municipal Commission it was decided to make an investigation. It was found that some of the charges were not sustained, but enough evidence was discovered to warrant the State Commission in recommending a change in the secretary.

The Yonkers Commission was composed of four members, one of whom was president, and one of whom was secretary, acting also as chief examiner. It was suggested to the Mayor that the rules be amended so as to provide for a Commission of three members, and that the Commission appoint a chief examiner, who should also act as secretary. The Mayor promptly adopted the suggestion, with the result that the rules were amended and the resignation of the secretary followed. His successor was appointed after the selection had been approved by the State Commission. Late in December the Mayor accepted the resignations of the three remaining Commissioners and appointed a new Commission. It is expected that the position of chief examiner of the Commission will be permanently filled in the near future as the result of an open competitive examination to be conducted by the State Commission on behalf of the Municipal Commission. The co-operation of the Mayor in bringing about the reorganization of the Municipal Commission is recognized and appreciated, and it is confidentially expected that the general administration of the Civil Service Law and Rules in the city of Yonkers will be greatly advanced.

Conclusion

In closing this report to you we record our appreciation of your earnest and steadfast co-operation in the administration of the Civil Service Law and Rules, and the high value you place upon an honest enforcement thereof, as set forth in your last inaugural address. The administration of the Civil Service Law has not been easy as the problems have been many and difficult to solve, but the Commission has endeavored in all cases to follow the provisions of the Constitution and the Law. Evasion of these provisions will result in detriment to the public service and will inevitably lead to a return to the evils which the constitutional provision is intended to cure.

In all parts of the Commission's work the desire has been to have the Civil Service of the State and its civil divisions improved through consistent and forceful application of the competitive principle. A review of the record will show the satisfactory results of this policy, and the support which you have rendered the Commission has brought high commendation for your administration.

Accompanying this report will be found the Chief Examiner's report, the civil list, appendices relating to examinations, and other matters which are required by law to be published.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL H. ORDWAY
WILLARD D. McKINSTRY,
WILLIAM GORHAM RICE,

REPORT OF THE CHIEF EXAMINER

To the Commission:

The Chief Examiner respectfully submits the following report of the work of the Examinations Division for the year ended December 31, 1916.

During the calendar year 1916 there were 23,686 applicants and 19,305 persons actually examined as shown by the following table:

| KIND OF EXAMINATION | Number of examinations | Number of candidates |
|---|---|---|
| 1. Open competitive | 237 | 13,488 |
| 2. Promotion competitive | 137 | 1,264 |
| 3. Promotion noncompetitive | ..... | 84 |

In explanation of the fact that fewer persons entered our open competitive examinations this year than in 1915 (a falling off from 18,911 to 13,488) it should be pointed out that when "times are good" and the country is prosperous the number of competitors in civil service examinations always decreases; and vice versa, when the country's business is depressed and many are out of employment more people are anxious to take the examinations.

During 1916 we have witnessed a sudden and very great expansion of business and it is reported that the demand for labor in nearly every line is far greater than the supply, and it is probably true that most Civil Service Commissions have noted a decrease in competition in 1916. For example the United States Civil Service Commission during the year ended June 30, 1915, examined 167,164 persons, but during the year ended June 30, 1916, they examined 154,722. The Wisconsin State Commission in its sixth biennial report (July, 1914 to July, 1916) says on page nine "It has been hard to obtain candidates for examination due to a variety of causes — good times may be named as one of the causes. It is to be noticed that the number of applicants is very closely related to the salaries paid as compared with the qualifications required. Clerks and stenographers are paid as well as, or better, than they would be under private employment. Our eligible lists of these are never exhausted. Positions at state institutions are most difficult to fill because the wages paid are lower than in any other branch of the service."

Comparative Statistics

Provisional Appointments

The following table shows the number of persons examined non-competitively for provisional appointment during the years 1912 to 1916, inclusive:

| YEAR | Number appointed | Increase in number over preceding year | Per cent of increase over preceding year |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1912 | 311 | 67 | 27% |
| 1913 | 768 | 457 | 147% |
| 1914 | 1,108 | 340 | 44% |
| 1915 | 472 | *636 | *57% |
| 1916 | 236 | *236 | *100% |

* Decrease.

Shortly after assuming office the present Commission announced its determination to reduce to a minimum the objectionable practice of allowing provisional appointments. The remarkable success which has attended this policy is indicated by the above table, which shows the number of such appointments for 1916 to be exactly half of the number for 1915 and only slightly over one-fifth of the number for 1914. On December 31, 1916, the Chief Examiner's records show only seven provisional appointees then serving.

Promotion Examinations

The following table gives statistics of promotion examinations held 1912 to 1916, inclusive:

| | 1912 | 1913 | 1914 | 1915 | 1916 |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1. Number of competitive promotion examinations | 89 | 71 | 64 | 41 | 137 |
| 2. Number of competitors: | | | | | |
| Passed | 645 | 686 | 778 | 422 | 978 |
| Failed | 272 | 581 | 667 | 411 | 286 |

Oral Examinations

Oral examinations may be said to have proved their usefulness and are now recognized as a valuable means of determining personal qualifications and general fitness. These tests have been given, with satisfactory results, in connection with the following written examinations:

1. Assistant in Public Records, State Education Department.
2. Matron, Albany County Penitentiary.
3. Court Interpreter, German, Polish, Yiddish, Bronx county.
4. Game Protector, Herkimer county.
5. Superintendent, Cattaraugus County Tuberculosis Hospital.
6. Superintendent of the Erie County Home and Hospital.
7. Superintendent of the Poor, Erie county.
8. Game Protector, Jefferson county.
9. Game Protector, Rensselaer county.
10. Special Investigator, Bureau of Industrial Hygiene, Department of Labor.
11. Game Protector, Clinton county.
12. Inspector, State Hospital Commission.
13. Game Protector, New York county.
14. Officer, District Attorney's Office, Rensselaer county.
15. Chief of Police, Village of Peekskill.
16. Agent or Assistant Agent for Dependent Children, Oneida county.
17. Children's Agent, Westchester County Almshouse.
18. Physician, State Prisons and Reformatories.
19. Assistant Physician, State Prisons and Reformatories.
20. Farm Superintendent, Oneida County Almshouse.

Examination for Clerk

An examination for Clerk was held on March 18, in which 2,981 competitors participated. This is the largest number ever tested in a clerical examination by this Commission and, it is believed, by any State Commission. Undoubtedly the Clerk examination would have been much larger except for the requirement of certain educational or experience qualifications as prerequisites for admission.

Requirements for Admission to Examination

These preliminary requirements are of great value, not so much to reduce the number of competitors, as to assure that the competition will be of the right kind.

Digitized by Google

In its essence the purpose of civil service competition is to select the right man for the right place; in other words, to secure, through absolute impartiality, the best qualified employees. For many positions such results can be obtained only by a rigid exclusion of the unfit; obviously a strong physique is essential in positions in the police service, consequently those who do not possess such a physique should be excluded. Likewise for positions requiring scientific or professional training there is an evident necessity for prescribing preliminary requirements to exclude those who have not received such training. Admission to a Physician examination should be restricted to physicians, and admission to a Trained Nurse examination to trained nurses.

The difficulty in the application of this principle to an examination for Clerk arises from the fact that here the duties of the position are not as clearly understood by the public at large, and the need for definite training not as generally recognized. But the principle involved is the same; only those persons should be admitted who, having reasonable chances of passing, would be fitted to take up the duties of the position if appointed.

The position of Clerk requires a certain amount of education and, for the higher grades, experience of a clerical nature. Competition, then, should be restricted to those who have these qualifications. Experience along strictly office lines would not be regarded as desirable training for an outdoor position such as Game Protector, nor should the outdoor experience which would qualify for Game Protector be regarded as preparation for an indoor position such as Clerk.

The belief that every citizen has an inalienable right to enter every examination, regardless of his lack of fitness, is based on the theory that no particular qualifications are required for positions in the government service. Such an attitude is entirely consistent with the policy of regarding government positions as favors to be distributed among political adherents, but has no place in a scheme of appointments based on the principle of merit and fitness. The application of the merit system necessarily involves limitation of freedom of choice on the part of appointing officers and the demand that civil service appointees shall be those best qualified to serve the officials who are responsible for their work is no more than simple justice to the officials concerned and to the State.

Digitized by Google

Justice to the individual competitor also demands reasonable entrance restrictions. It is no kindness to a man to allow him to go to the expense and trouble incident to an examination, when a brief inspection of his training and experience would indicate that he had no chance of passing the examination or receiving an appointment. Rather should he be encouraged to devote his time and attention to securing a position where he might reasonably expect success. Both the interests of the competitor and the interests of the service demand that he should be placed where his training and experience will enable him to do his best work.

Other Examination Problems

Closely allied to the problem of securing the right kind of competition in examinations is the problem of conforming examinations as nearly as possible to meet the requirements of the position to be filled. Before advertising an examination it is customary to ascertain carefully the nature, duties and peculiar requirements of the position and to determine the scope and difficulty of the examination on this basis. This adjustment of the examination to the needs of the position is one of the most difficult tasks connected with examination work. Too close a conformity may give a provisional appointee an advantage, or may unduly restrict competition, and too little may render the eligible lists unsuitable. Too difficult an examination may fail to provide an eligible list, and one too easy may provide eligibles who are poorly qualified. Experience has demonstrated, however, as a general principle, that the higher the standard of examination requirements, the smaller the number of candidates, the more proficient the eligibles, and the less the cost. The most satisfactory results are to be obtained not by a lowering of standards, but by a careful study of the nature of the positions to be filled and an impartial compliance with their requirements.

Civil Service Methods in Business

There is today a wide-spread use of scientific methods of examining applicants for employment on the part of leading commercial houses, public utility and railroad corporations, which closely corresponds to civil service examination methods. Formerly attention was given by corporations chiefly to the quality of equipment, machinery and materials, and little account was taken of the applicants for employment. Now, however, it is recognized that there is an intimate relationship between the quality of employees and the success or failure of the business. Today, employment managers' associations in the principal cities such as Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago give much attention to the subject of scientific selection of employees, and employers are waking up to the value of quality tests of applicants, and are seeking out and establishing such tests in their employment departments. The employment methods now in vogue with many business concerns are based on the merit principle and often include personal interviews, the filing of applications, investigation of references, and written tests or practical try-outs, as the nature of the position may warrant.

Good penmanship is required of candidates who are to be employed as record clerks. Stenographers and typists, multigraph and calculating machine operators may have special tests. Written tests may be given for positions as chemists, civil engineers, accountants, etc., where certain theoretical knowledge of the work involved is essential. Simple tests in spelling, arithmetic, etc., may be given to applicants for minor clerkships and some shop positions where figuring and making out reports form part of the work.

Thus it may be seen that there is a close resemblance in methods of examining applicants now in vogue with civil service commissions and business corporations. There is this difference, however, in that the State Civil Service Commissions, owing to distant residence of candidates, are obliged to examine applications in place of a preliminary personal sizing up of the candidates, and to give the written tests before the oral interviews. But the use of application forms, written tests, letters of inquiry, and physical and medical examinations is very similar in both cases.

Physical and Medical Examinations

The desirability of physical and medical examinations is seen in the fact that leading business corporations find it necessary to require applicants to undergo such examinations before final acceptance for employment. This procedure is based on the belief that human machinery like iron and steel should be without flaw and in good working condition in order that efficiency may be maintained at a maximum. It is interesting to note that the local residence of candidates enables the New York City Civil Service Commission to give the physical examination before the written test, thus saving much time and money as the physical test is much the quicker and is easier to handle and less expensive. Out of 22,500 candidates this year, New York city rejected 7,600 in the physical examinations, the expense of giving written tests to those rejected thus being eliminated, and the total examination expenses thereby considerably reduced.

The advisability of giving physical and medical examinations before the written test is thus apparent, but owing to the scattered residence of candidates in our examinations this Commission gives such examinations only for positions requiring unusual vigor, strength and soundness of body, and requires medical certificates in lieu thereof when such physical examinations are especially desirable but impracticable. Sound physical condition is essential to efficient service, and the state is entitled to such as well as business concerns. Provision in the budget for the more extended use of medical examinations could be made with profit.

Investigation of Character and Ability

Progress has been made this year in regard to verifying candidates' statements of qualifications, and investigating their character and experience. Letters of inquiry were sent to employers in the case of important examinations having few candidates. When investigation was desirable but impossible owing to a large number of candidates, examination announcements contained the provision that candidates should file letters of recommendation with their application forms.

In the work of investigation we are confronted with serious difficulties which have to be handled with much care and good judgment. Employers are reluctant to give information unfavorable to candidates unless their communications are treated as confidential and many refuse to make any statement unless legal releases are signed by candidates absolving them from all liability for any statement they may make, and this release in all cases would have to be secured by the Civil Service Commission.

The work of verifying candidates' statements though equally important does not meet with the difficulties incident to the investigation of business records. The examination department would be greatly strengthened could provision be made in the budget for the addition of experienced character and employment investigators to the office force.

Unequal Distribution of Candidates

A situation which needs correction is the disproportionate number of competitors examined in New York city and Albany as compared with the number examined in other parts of the State. A comparison based on the population figures of the 1915 census and the number of competitors examined in 1916, shows the following surprising results:

| | Percentage of population in 1915 | Percentage of number examined |
|---|---|---|
| New York city and Albany county | 56 | 85 |
| Outside of New York city and Albany county | 44 | 15 |
| Total | 100 | 100 |

There are, of course, some reasons for expecting a higher percentage of candidates from New York city and Albany than from the rest of the State but it is believed that this excessive difference is due largely to the fact that information in regard to examinations usually comes more directly to the attention of residents of these cities than to residents of other localities. During the coming year an especial effort will be made to advertise examinations on a more extensive scale, especially in the country districts, and it hoped that in this way the situation can be corrected.

Another means of remedying this difficulty is by the addition of more examination centers. It is evident that competition is discouraged in a locality where a considerable sacrifice of time and money is required to reach the place of examination. A prospective competitor in New York city may be able to take an examination at a cost of ten cents for carfare; a competitor in a country district may have to spend several dollars for the same purpose. Such a hardship is unfair and every reasonable effort should be made to equalize opportunities in the various sections.

At present examinations for the state service are held in the following cities and villages:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Albany | Jamestown | Plattsburg |
| Amsterdam | Kingston | Port Henry |
| Auburn | Lockport | Potsdam |
| Binghamton | Lowville | Poughkeepsie |
| Buffalo | Malone | Riverhead |
| Cobleskill | Newburgh | Rochester |
| Dunkirk | New York | Syracuse |
| Elmira | Norwich | Utica |
| Glens Falls | Ogdensburg | Warsaw |
| Hornell | Olean | Watertown |
| Ithaca | Oneonta | White Plains |

Cooperation with Municipal Commissions

Reference has frequently been made to the desirability of further cooperation between the State Commission and the municipal civil service commissions throughout the State. For several years this Commission has maintained a file of examination questions used in municipal civil service examinations, and assistance is frequently given, when requested, in the preparation and rating of examinations. Among others the following examinations have been prepared and rated for various cities:

Assistant Superintendent of Nurses, Utica.
Night Supervisor of Nurses, Utica.
Polish Interpreter, Niagara Falls.
Stenographer, Niagara Falls.
Food Inspector, Poughkeepsie.
Veterinarian, Olean.
Rodman, Yonkers.
Dietitian, Binghamton.
School Physician, Utica.

Digitized by Google

Lineman, Jamestown.
Meterman, Jamestown.
Promotion to Lieutenant, Fire Department, Jamestown.
Promotion to Captain, Fire Department, Jamestown.

It is believed that such cooperation could profitably be extended to include State participation, in an advisory capacity at least, in practically all municipal examinations. In Massachusetts and New Jersey there are no local commissions and the state commissions have entire control over city examinations, with generally satisfactory results. Most of the advantages of this plan could be obtained in this State by systematic cooperation, whereby the State Commission might serve as a clearing house for local civil service matters and the various municipal commissions thus be given opportunity to take advantage of the accumulated experience of other commissions.

This cooperation could probably be brought about without serious difficulty, as the advantages to the municipal commissions would be obvious. The State Commission would also profit thereby as it would be given an opportunity to keep in close touch with local civil service problems throughout the State. Such an arrangement might also be of advantage in the further development of character investigation.

Needs of the Division

If the work of the Civil Service Commission is to reach the standard of efficiency which its importance demands, it is essential that provision be made for the employment and retention of competent examiners, on substantially the same salary basis as those engaged in work of a similar grade in other departments.

At present the examining work is much handicapped by insufficient and inconveniently arranged rooms. Nearly all of the work of rating papers is done in Room 605 on the sixth floor, while the other work of the division is done on the fourth floor. The resultant inconvenience and loss of time are, in the aggregate, a serious handicap.

Respectfully submitted,

H. N. SAXTON,
Chief Examiner.
